INTRODUCING

Two New Azaleas :

RED PROGRESS

and

MAY GLORY

Originated by us from a cross between Sanderi and Hinomayo.

Both of these varieties have red flowers of the same shade as Hinodigiri. The flowers are half again as big and the plants grow much faster than Hinodigiri. We feel that a year can be saved in producing a 15-18" plant. They are intended principally for landscape purposes, although they can be advanced a few weeks if necessary for early sales. Red Progress is a taller grower than May Glory, while May Glory blooms a week to 10 days later than Red Progress or Hinodigiri.
